88% OF PARENTS RATE OUR TEACHERS AS FANTASTIC

We greatly appreciated the approach proposed by Rain Trees, which is both caring and respectful of the development of each child. The teaching team is gentle, welcoming, reassuring, and competent. There is a real love for the profession and the children in this school. The administrative team is charming, very welcoming, and keen to make you feel at home. We have seen our daughter flourish from the age of 18 months to 3 and a half years. She always went to school with enthusiasm and curiosity. We are leaving Singapore and consequently leaving the school with great regret. Rain Trees will remain the best choice we have made for our youngest!

Choosing Rain Trees Kindergarten for our son, Lorenzo, was one of the best decisions we've made for his early education journey. Initially timid, Lorenzo flourished within the nurturing embrace of the school's caring environment. Through gentle encouragement and support, he emerged from his shell, growing in confidence and finding joy in learning. A standout feature that we love about Rain Trees is its expansive garden, a haven for exploration and discovery. Here, Lorenzo not only thrived physically but also developed a deep appreciation for outdoors. We're immensely grateful for the invaluable role Rain Trees has played in our son's growth, providing him with the foundation for a lifetime of learning and exploration.

CARING | EXPLORING | FUN

Rain Trees is a loving caring nurturing school where children run in with such excitement every morning. My children absolutely love their day at school and come out with big smiles and can't wait to tell me about their day. When they leave they have such high self-esteem and are well prepared for big school.

Caroline and Andrew, parents of Paige

We've had two children attend Rain Trees as their first school. Both have grown to be confident, happy children who love going to school and are engaged in learning. Rain Trees provided a caring, warm and supportive environment for both of our children. Despite our children having very different personalities (one is more reserved and cautious, the other more social and assertive), Rain Trees was able to provide to both of their needs and give them a great first school experience.

We could not be happier with our choice of nursery for Romy. The warmth and dedication of the staff have made a tremendous difference in his early learning journey. Every day, Romy comes home with a smile on his face. The nurturing environment and the professional yet loving approach of the teachers have greatly contributed to his social and developmental skills. We are truly grateful to have our son in such a supportive and encouraging setting. Thank you to everyone at Rain Trees for making these early years so enriching and enjoyable for Romy and our family!" Shereen and Lee, parents of Romy

96% OF OUR PARENTS HAVE RECOMMENDED RAIN TREES TO THEIR FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES

Rain Trees is our son, Kai's, first schooling experience and we couldn't be more pleased. It is such a nurturing, caring, supportive environment, and truly feels like an extension of our home. The staff continuously go above and beyond to ensure Kai is well supported and able to thrive. We especially appreciate their personalized approach. For example, when he became a big brother a few months ago, it was a huge transition for all of us. His teacher supported Kai in him sharing about becoming a big brother with the rest of the class. This led to a wonderful conversation with his other classmates who shared they were also big brothers/sisters which helped Kai feel less alone. We also appreciated the personal email from Rohini congratulating us! It's these small and ongoing personal touches that mean so much to us. Overall, it's having a very positive impact on Kai's development. He's continuing to become more confident and capable in his abilities, skills, and just loves going to school. He has the most wonderful stories to share with us everyday. I highly recommend Rain Trees to anyone who's looking for a fun, personalized, caring, and integrated approach for their children. Sheila, parent of Kai
